The Pirate was chiefly written at Abbotsford ;but Scott was, in the year 1821, suffering the penalty of his fame, so that his own house was too often a tourists resort, where he could not be sure of privacy. He had occasionally to repair, therefore, to the cottage where Lockhart and his daughter, Sophia, were then residing Chiefswood. When sore beset at home, says his son-in-law, he would escape early in the day, and reach the cottage on his mare before its inmates were astir. Then the clatter of Sybil Grey shoofs, the yelping of Mustard and Spice, and his own joyous shout oireveil Ueunder our windows, were the signal that he had burst his toils, and meant for that day to take his ease in his inn. On descending, he was to be found seated with all his dogs and ours about him, under a spreading ash that overshadowed half the bank between the cottage and the brook, pointing the edge of his woodmans axe for himself, and listening to Tom Purdie slecture touching the plantation that most needed thinning....
