We believe that our efforts will improve the program substantially and will enhance our investment in nanotechnology. YDEN Senator W. Thank you. Mr. Modzelewski. STATEMENT OF F. MARK MODZELEWSKI, EXECUTIVE ANO USINESS DIRECTOR, N B ALLIANCE Mr. M. Mr. Chairman, Senator Allen, I thank you for ODZELEWSKI allowing me, on behalf of the NanoBusiness Alliance, the member organizations, the opportunity to testify before you on the topic of nanotechnology as a transition from a science into a business. Nanotechnology is rapidly becoming an industrial revolution for the 21st Century. However, todays nanotech industry might best be compared to the computer industry of the 1960s before the inte-grated circuit, or the biotech industry of the 1970s. While many nanotechnology sectors are in the nascent stages, others are al-ready delivering products to market. A variety of nanomaterials, for instance, including enhanced polymers, coatings, and fillers, are already available, producing revenues and profits, and advanced nanotechnology medical and electronics applications will be immi-nently impacting our lives. As production of nanoproducs becomes easier, faster, and cheap-er, every market sector will begin to feel the impact. We at the NanoBusiness Alliance estimate that the global market for nanotechnology-related products and services could reach more than 225 billion by 2005. The NSF conservatively predicts a 1 trillion global market for nanotechnology in a little over a decade. Since its inception, the National Nanotechnology Initiative has proven to be an incredible instance of Government outpacing...
