A little while ago I stood by the grave of the old Napoleon-- a magnificent tomb of gilt and gold, fit almost for a dead deity. I thought of the orphans and widows he had made--of the tears that had been shed for his glory, and of the only woman who ever loved him, pushed from his heart by the cold hand of ambition. And I said I would rather have been a French peasant and worn wooden shoes; I would rather have lived in a hut with a vine growing over the door, and the grapes growing purple in the kisses of the autumn sun; I would rather have been that poor peasant with my loving wife by my side, knitting as the day died out of the sky--with my children upon my knees and their arms about me. I would rather have been that man and gone down to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust than to have been that imperial impersonation of force and murder. ONLY TIME IN HISTORY. (Masonic Home Journal. ) You remember Noah had to work a long time on that ark. It was uphill business, too, at best, building a boat away out on dry land, while the local Anvil and Hammer club sat around spitting tobacco juice upon his lumber, whittling up his pine boards with...
