It is very sparingly lined with a few blades of dead grass. The bird has a habit of scratching out several spare nesting-sites not far from the one adopted. When placed amongst an abundant growth of coarse marsh grass, the nest is not easy to find, and the best plan for the student to adopt is to go out early in the morning, when a heavy dew will invariably enable him to trace its whereabouts. The eggs, four in number, are easily distinguished by their buff ground colour and bold markings. ROCK DOVE. Whilst in the Hebrides last summer, I was, during a spell of calm weather, able to explore several caves on the Atlantic seaboard and...
